FISHING INDUSTRY

Whereas the position of the United States in world fisheries has declined from first to sixth place among the major fishing nations; Whereas there has been a continuing decline in domestic production of food fish and shellfish for the last five years;

Whereas our domestic fishing fleet in many areas has become obsolete and inefficient;

Whereas intensive foreign fishing along our coasts has brought about declines in stocks of a number of species with resulting economic hardship to local domestic fishermen dependent upon such stocks; Whereas rising costs and extremely high insurance rates have made fishing uneconomic in some areas even when stocks of fish and shellfish are at normal levels;

Whereas assistance to fishermen is very limited as contrasted to Federal aid to industrial, commercial, and agricultural interests;

Whereas United States fishermen cannot successfully compete against imported fish products in the market because a number of foreign fishing countries subsidize their fishing industry to a greater extent;

Whereas some 60 per centum of the seafood requirements of the United States is being supplied by imports;

Whereas the United States fisheries and fishing industry is a valuable natural resource supplying employment and income to thousands of people in all of our coastal States;
